The Asia - Pacific Bioinformatics Network

Partner Organisations:

About us

Founded in January 1998, APBioNet is dedicated to the advancement of the field of bioinformatics with an Asia-Pacific focus. Specifically, improving the bioinformatics network infrastructure, facilitating the exchange of data and information, developing training programs, workshops and symposia, and promoting regional collaboration in the field of bioinformatics.

Join us

- ❑ APBioNet is one of the oldest and largest bioinformatics organisation in the Asia-Pacific region
- ❑ The flagship conference of APBioNet, International Conference on Bioinformatics (InCoB), is one of Asia's largest bioinformatics conferences, targeting practitioners from both biology and computing backgrounds
- ❑ APBioNet is part of a multi-stakeholder effort to develop standards for bioinformatics activities
- ❑ It has been actively engaged in bridging the bioinformatics capability gap, with emphasis on establishing sustainable bioinformatics education and training
- ❑ It is committed to meet the challenges of big data science in the decade ahead
- ❑ It is working closely with the ASEAN Committee on Science and Technology (COST) to assist in developing bioinformatics masterplans and roadmaps for the ten ASEAN member countries

Membership benefits

- ❑ Eligibility to apply for APBioNet and ISCB Travel Fellowships
- ❑ Discounts at APBioNet-related events such as the InCoB conference
- ❑ Notification and regular updates on APBioNet activities, as well as attractive offers and opportunities for participation in select activities of interest
- ❑ Discounts on APBioNet merchandise and publications
- ❑ Eligibility to represent APBioNet at key meetings, AGM and events as official delegates (subject to ExCo approval)
